Right, no airline rentals. We will be able to do everything with air bottles from the warehouse.

Hey Gary,

After discussions with Jeff, Ceci, and Sam, regarding the hazcatting event next week, it is their recommendation that we open the drums in Level B, as opposed to Level C.

The only increase in cost would be for the Level B equipment ($800-1,000), which we have at the warehouse, and bringing Sam Cheek down for a couple of days.

If this is ok with you, I'll continue making plans to start on Tuesday in Level B.

Please let me know if you have questions or concerns.

Thanks,
Daniel
